A June-time calendar of nine months of events at Jefferson High School.
Events—both big and little—made our year great and well worth remembering. There were our huge assignments, our outstanding activities, our great athletic teams, and best of all—our big dates.
Who can blame us for liking this high school life!

HELLO EVERYBODY!

My name is Jeff Calendar—

I have a message for you.

As time slips by it becomes increasingly difficult to bring back the cherished memories of our happy days at Jeff. It is my purpose to help you recall those events which occurred through the year 1949-50.

On the following pages I have tried to arrange, in chronological order, those events over which you may reminisce.

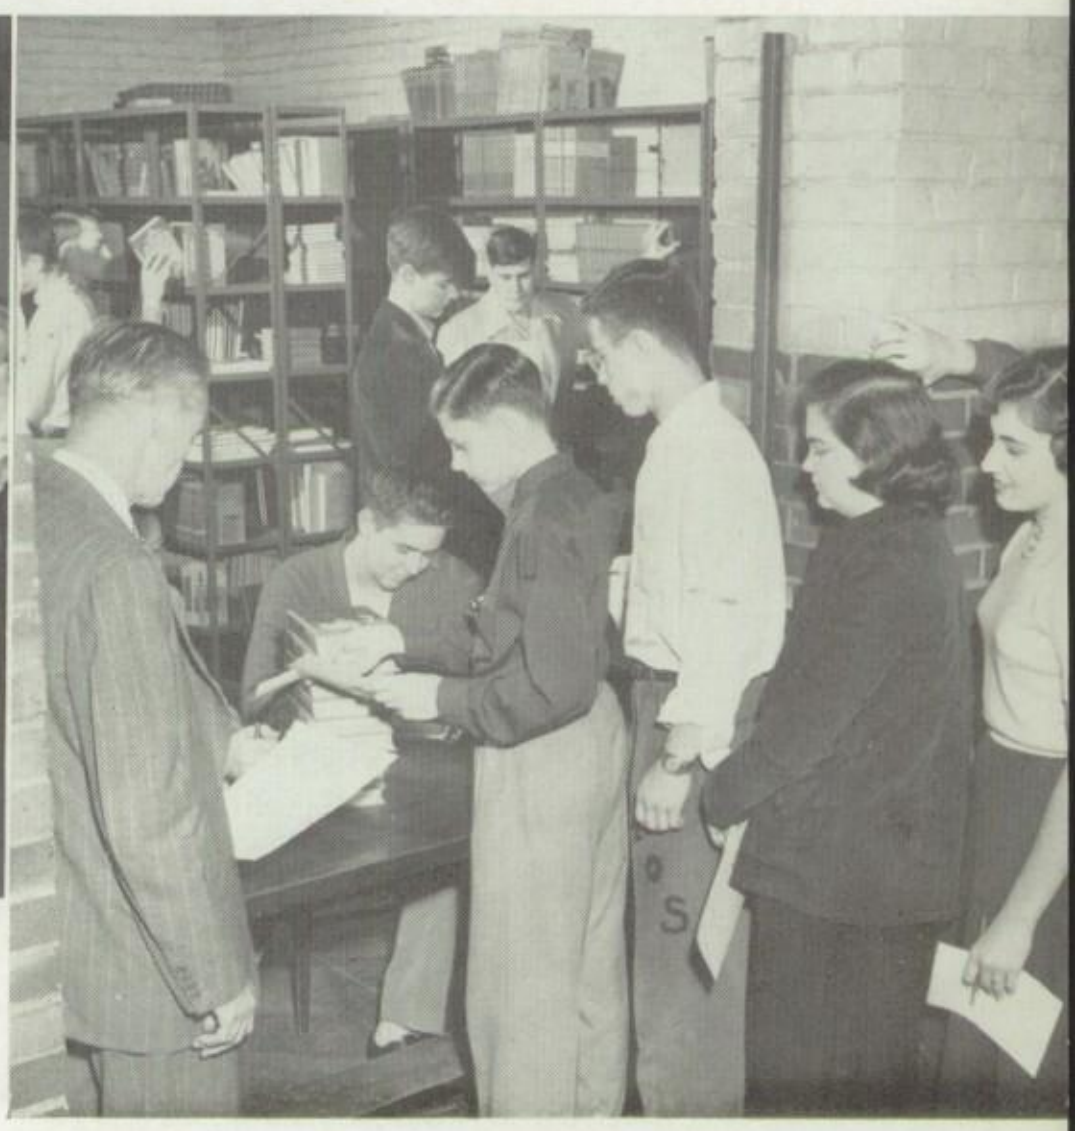
SEPTEMBER

Back to school again after a wonderful but seemingly short vacation! Oh, it wasn't really bad to be back again; for it was great to see all of one's old friends once more; there were new people enrolled in the school; underclassmen that could be "hazed" (remember when the freshman bought convo and elevator tickets).

Yes, September was the month when the old grind resumed. There was the regular red tape of a high school—the long waiting in line at the book depository.

But this time of the year wasn't meant for school only; there were many picnics and hayrides; the athletic field resounded to the kicking of footballs and the flying feet of our cross country squad.

This was the month that our gridiron men defeated the Crispus Attucks, Frankfort, and Kokomo teams in spite of overwhelming odds against them. Their only loss was to a powerful Cathedral team.



OCTOBER

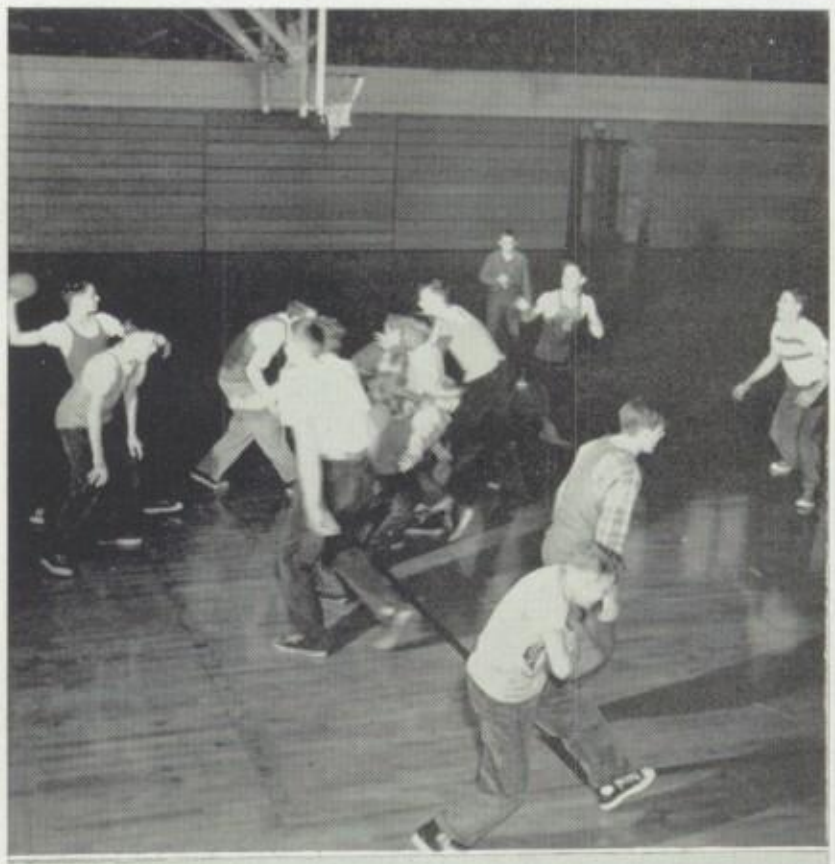
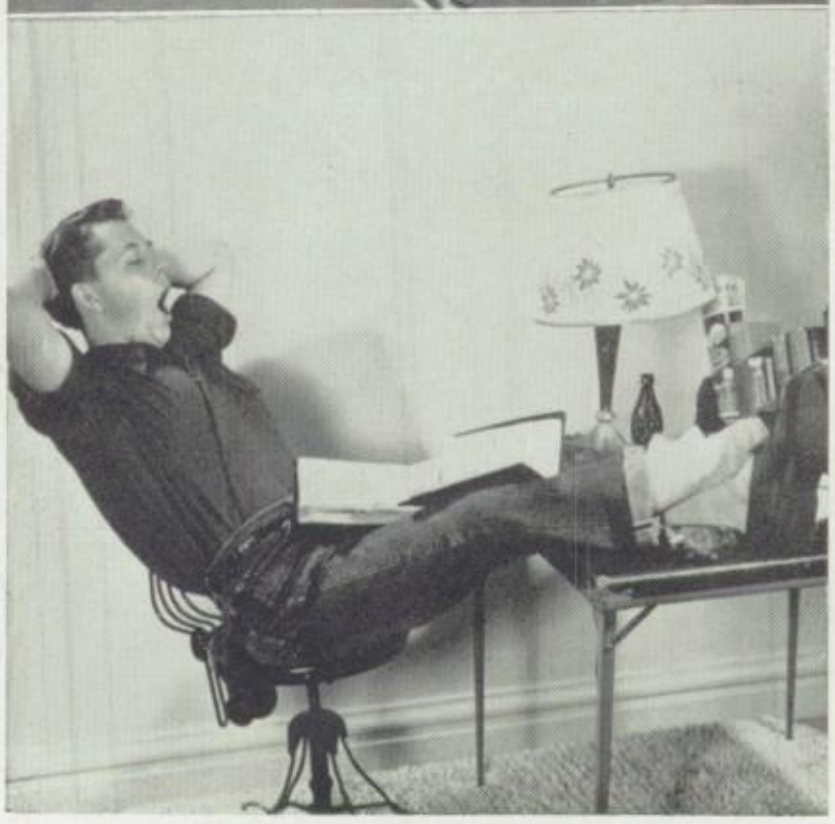
Bottom: Ho-Hum, studies get me down.





It seemed that September slipped away very quickly, and as one morning dawned, behold, it was October.

The activities of the school began to flower and come into full swing. The various clubs began their drives for new members, and everyone began to participate in the social whirl.

At noon, during the lunch hour, the more ambitious students had a chance to release their energies by playing intramural football in the gym.

This was the month in which preparations were made for the Red and Black Revue, and the Booster Dance; the month that those dreaded little grade cards came out. Remember the burning of the midnight oil just before the six weeks tests? Afterward, that studying seemed to have been futile.

NOVEMBER

November—the month when one event would fall right on the heels of another. First everyone was in a flutter about the Booster dance; next the Red and Black Revue received our attention, either as thrilled participants, or as very enthralled spectators. The day after the Revue, everyone rushed to Ross-Ade Stadium, for the annual Jeff-West Side football game which Jeff won. After the game, many people journeyed to the gym where a stocking hop was held. November also marked the start of the basketball season, the Bronchos playing Lebanon and Rossville.

DECEMBER

This was the month of many Christmas parties and Christmas dances. Remember the wonderful party that we had here at school one afternoon as an added present? We were excused for the rest of the day.

December also was the month of the holiday tourneys, where Jeff pulled an upset over New Albany, then lost to South Bend Central. December also was the month of the yo-yo craze—due to the influence of "Yo-Yo Martin," a character in "Kerry Drake's" comic strip. Almost every boy in school had one, and flailed it about the halls. In December, rules for the Senior election were posted, a Nautilus Queen was selected, many convocations were enjoyed, and the girls block section was first formed. The P.T.A. Fair was also held in December, as was the Christmas concert given by the band.

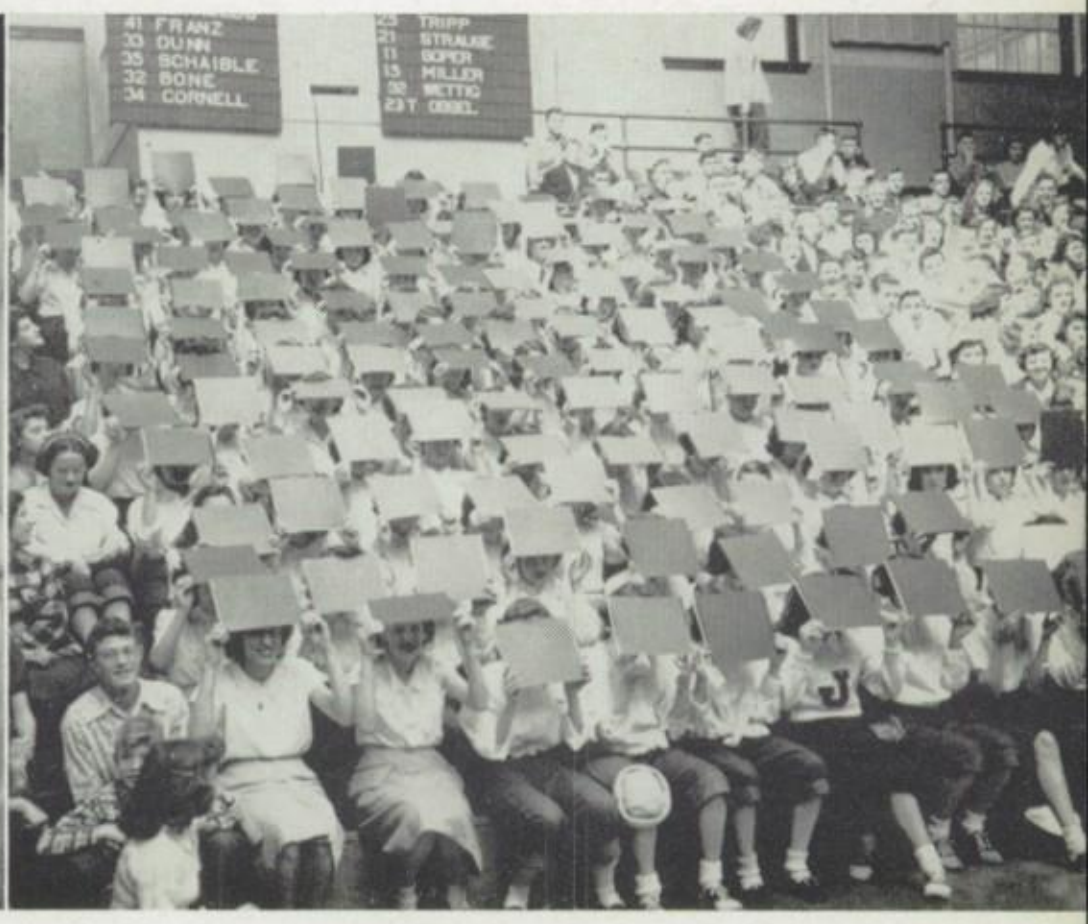
Bottom: Hmmm?!

JANUARY

After a very wonderful vacation, the student body dejectedly trudged back to school, thinking that two and one-half weeks certainly go by rapidly. They brought many fond memories of Christmas parties with them. Recall those ice-box raids? During the month, much ice skating and winter sports were enjoyed—as can be seen by the above picture. When the inmates of this great academic institution returned, they were greeted with many nice semester exams. The month of January also brought the Jeff-W.L. basketball game, played at the Purdue Fieldhouse. At the left we see one of those unrational sport fans still making amends for that maniacal performance after the football game. The first month of 1950 saw some vigorious campaigning for the senior offices, the choosing of the senior play cast, and the departing of Jeff's advanced journalism students for Chicago, via air.



FEBRUARY

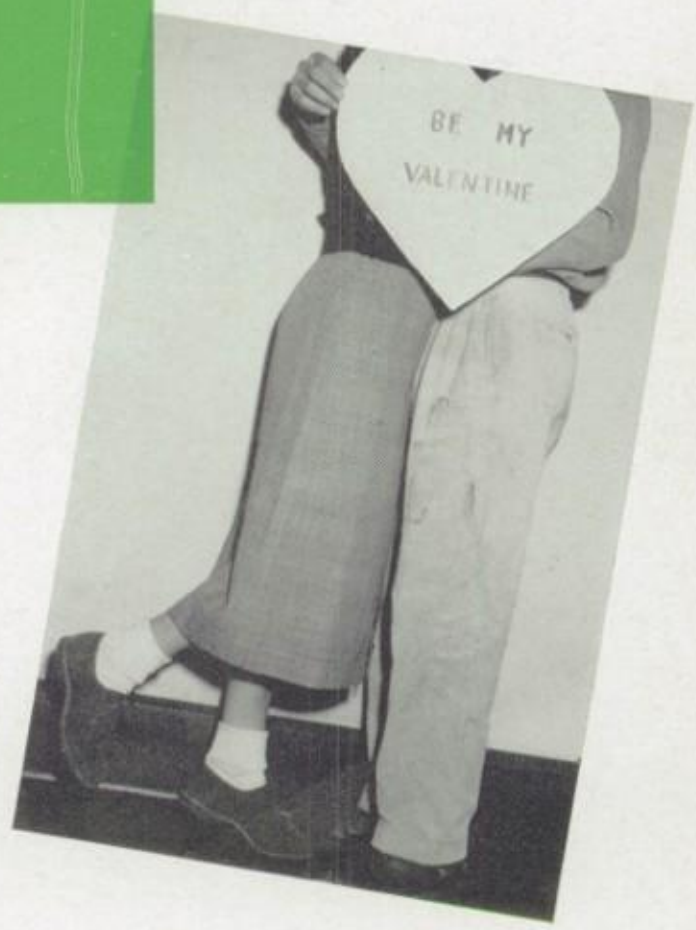
Below: Mmmmmmm!!

February was the month of many very successful events. The Queen of Hearts Dance was held the 11th; the state wrestling meet, in which Jeff was very successful, was held here at Jeff on the 18th; swimming was announced as possibly a new sport; the district instrumental and voice contest was held at Kokomo; also the dates for the senior play were announced, and the playoff for the intramural basketball championship was held.

February was also the month when Jeff's netters started down the long gruelling road to the final game of the I.H.S.A.A. tournament at Indianapolis. February, Cupid's month, certainly did witness a gay social season.



MARCH

March was a great month for our athletic, dramatics, and speech teams.

Jeff, of course is most proud of the great basketball team that struggled and fought its way to the final game at Indianapolis. The students will long remember the sharp shooting, the fast dribbling, and the great rebounding of the 1950 team. Does one recall those exciting games at Purdue Semi-Finals, where Jeff's boys upset favored Hammond and South Bend Central in very thrilling games?

Our speech and debate teams placed several contestants in the finals at Bloomington; also some of the members of the senior class, those talented in dramatics, presented the senior play the 24th and 25th. The play, "Mother Is A Freshman", was one of the best ever presented by Jefferson High School students.

Center: Second out of 766. That's sumpin', Brother.

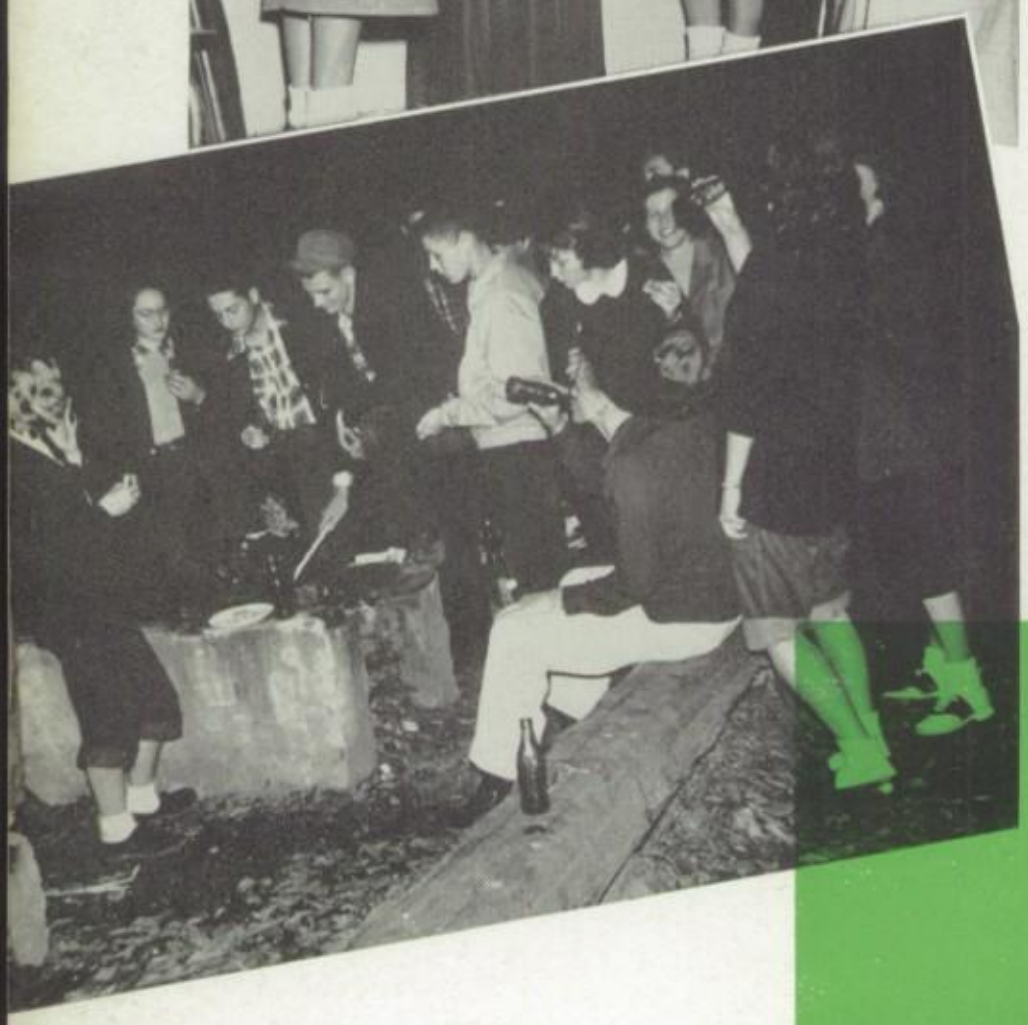
APRIL

April—the month in which all Jeff students have their day to celebrate, namely the first. (HA!) There was a real day of celebration in April, however, as the 6th marked the start of Easter vacation. Although April was a month of many showers, winter was finally over, and the 30 days on that leaf of the calendar were thoroughly enjoyed. April was the month that, after about 2 semesters of industrious endeavor, the NAUTILUS went to press. On the very first day of the month, the Hi-Tri sponsored the annual Moonlight Serenade, with Bob Doran's band. The Bronchoette Gallop, very successful this year, was held Saturday the 29th. There were also many excellent convocations held in April. April saw the launching of a very successful track season by Jeff's harriers.

Spring vacation.

April showers.

April fool!



MAY

Along about May, Jeff students got the idea that the school year was about over, and that it was time to let down. Lessons just received a casual glance, but perhaps that wasn't such a bad philosophy after all. This was the time of the year that the seniors were joyous, for after four long years, it was almost time to gradaute.

May also was the month of the Senior Prom and the month of the Speedway race, which many Jeff students attended. May was also the month of the Indianapolis relays for the trackmen, and many successful baseball games for Jeff "apple-knockers". This time of the year also provided the setting for many picnics, hikes, and outings.

Right: Speedway bound!

JUNE

June was probably the most important month in the minds of both the seniors and the underclassmen. To the underclassmen, June was the month in which school was dismissed, and, therefore, there was much rejoicing. To the senior it meant even more; they would now gradaute and go on to college, or on to the even more exacting road of life. When the present seniors first enrolled in high school, and during the years that they attended, they looked forward to June of 1950 as a day of liberation; however, when commencement day dawned, a note of sadness could be detected—for one would miss the pleasant memories of high school and all the friends that were made. June was also the month of many gay social events.

SEPT OCT NOV

These pages are dedicated to the faculty and administrators of the senior high school; this group, bedeviled by the student, has done a commendable job of trying to put some "larnin" into the student body.

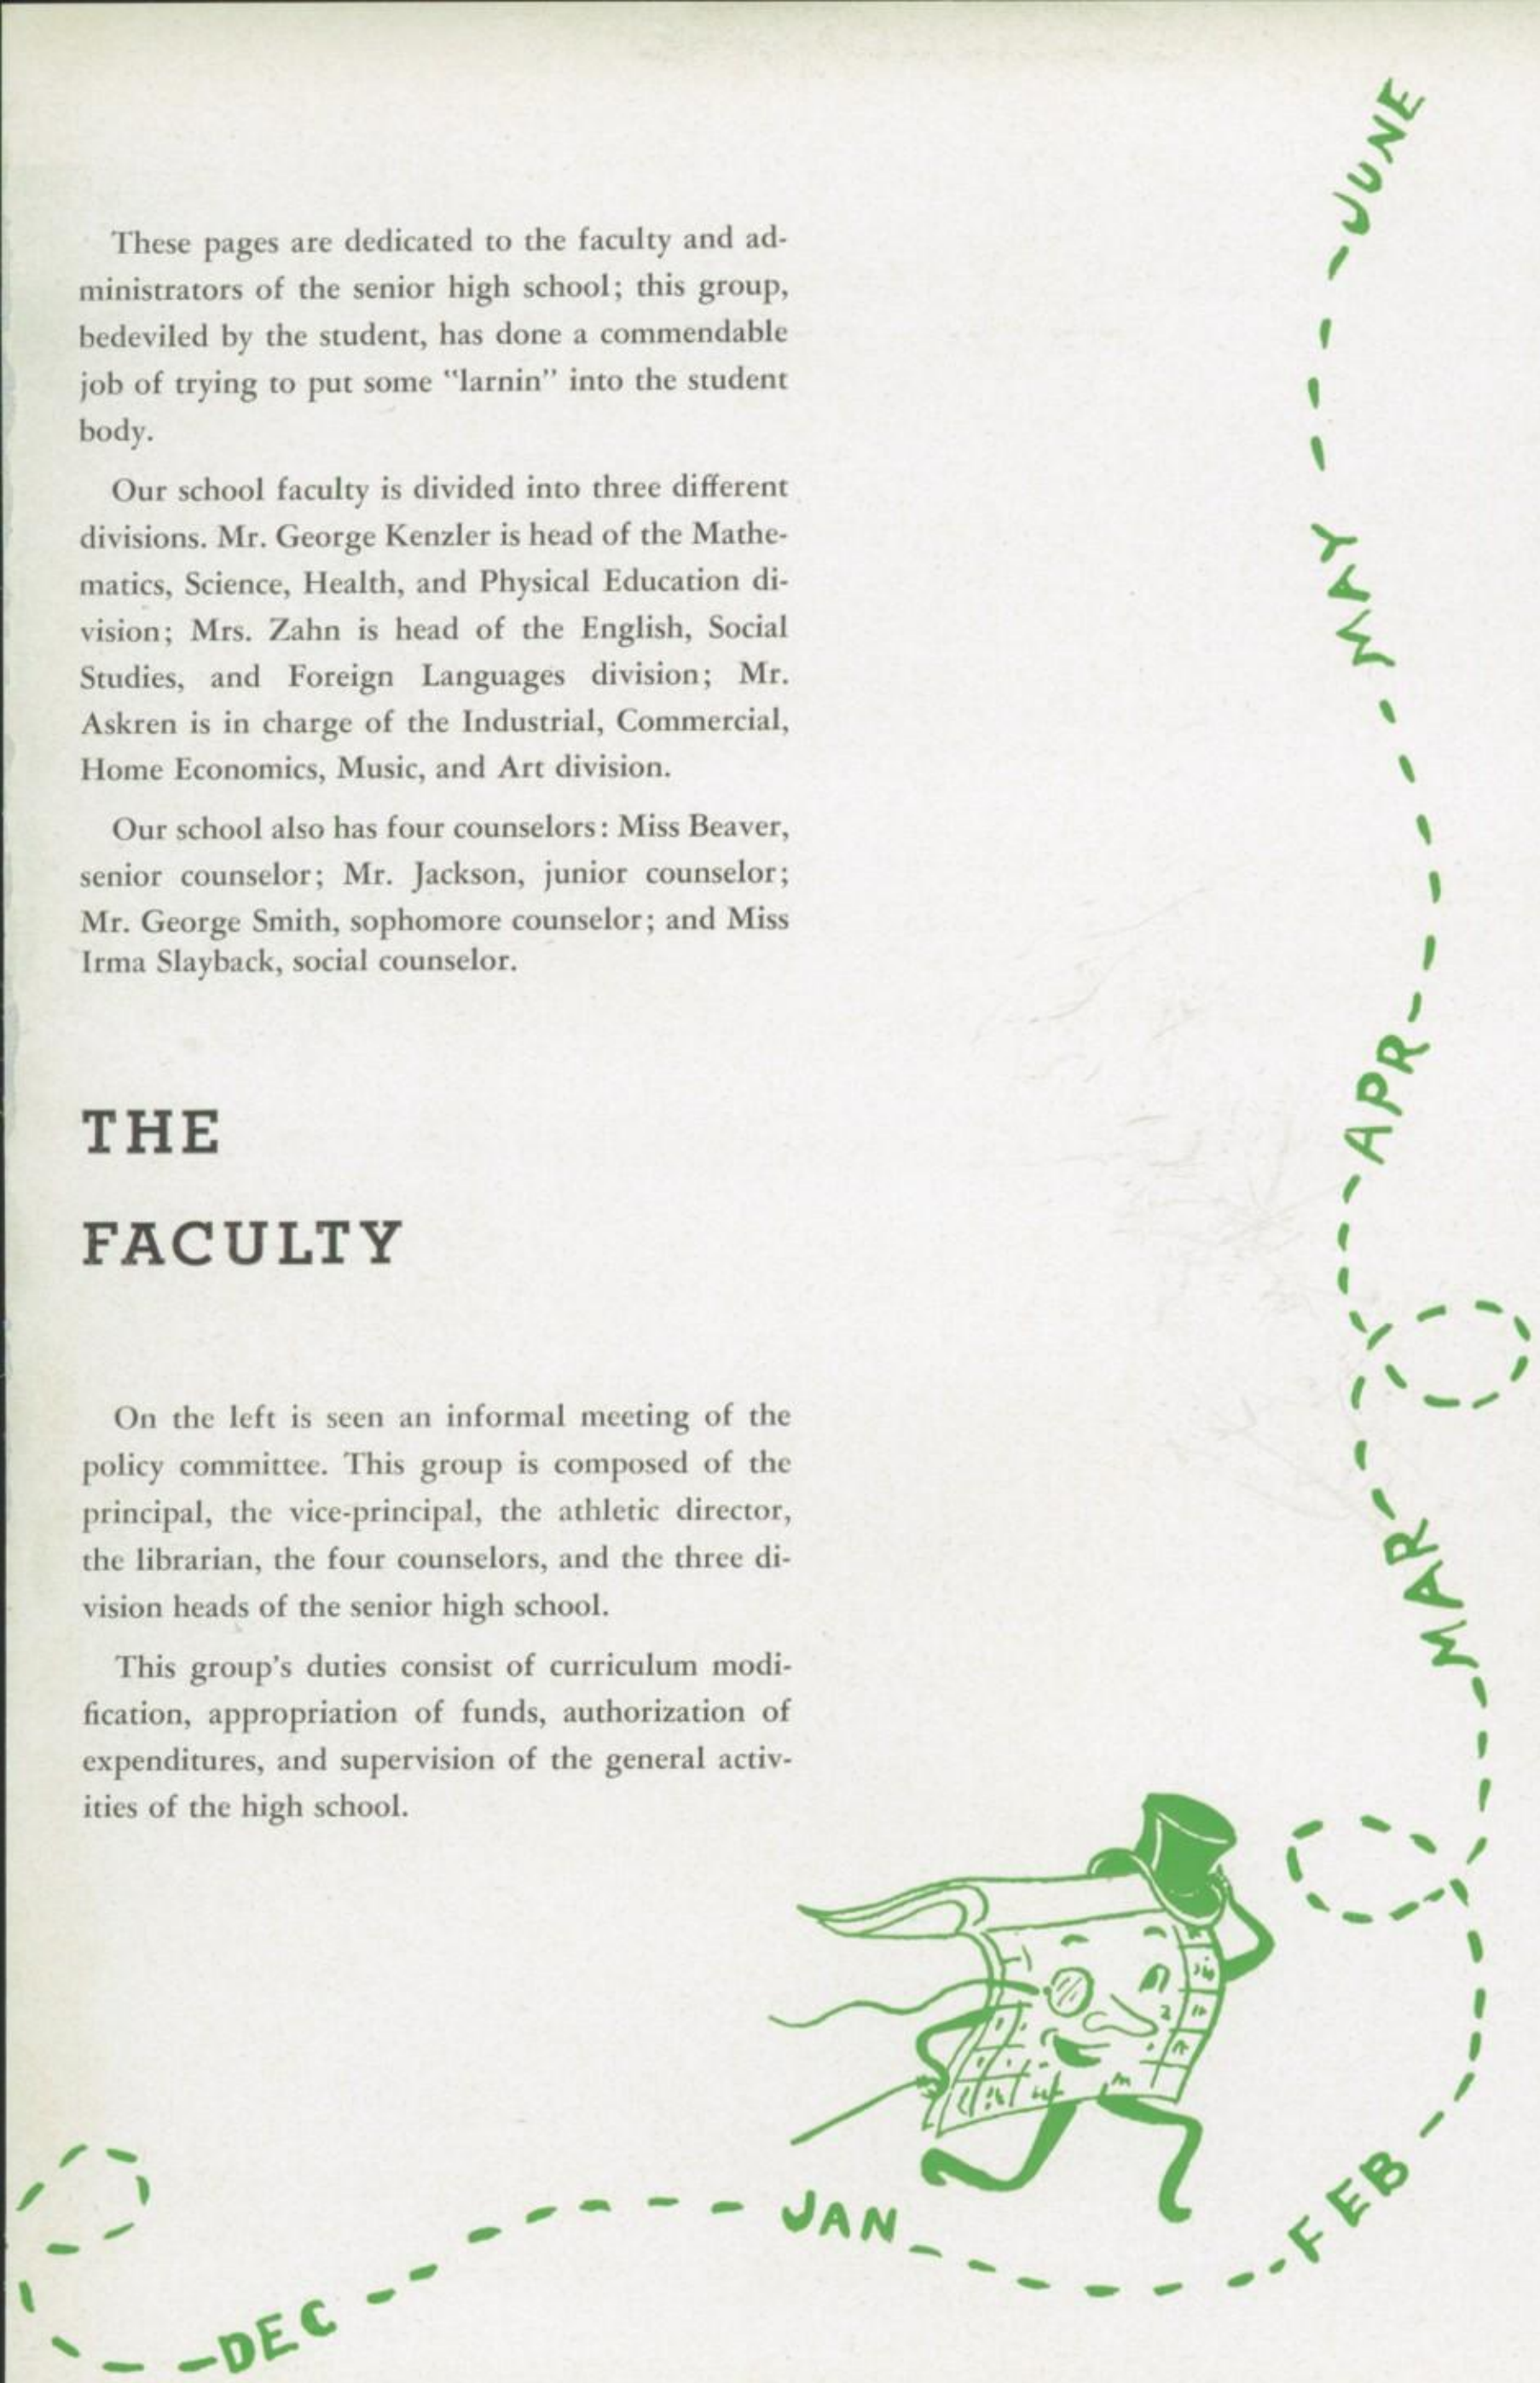
Our school faculty is divided into three different divisions. Mr. George Kenzler is head of the Mathematics, Science, Health, and Physical Education division; Mrs. Zahn is head of the English, Social Studies, and Foreign Languages division; Mr. Askren is in charge of the Industrial, Commercial, Home Economics, Music, and Art division.

Our school also has four counselors: Miss Beaver, senior counselor; Mr. Jackson, junior counselor; Mr. George Smith, sophomore counselor; and Miss Irma Slayback, social counselor.

THE FACULTY

On the left is seen an informal meeting of the policy committee. This group is composed of the principal, the vice-principal, the athletic director, the librarian, the four counselors, and the three division heads of the senior high school.

This group's duties consist of curriculum modification, appropriation of funds, authorization of expenditures, and supervision of the general activities of the high school.



SCHOOL OFFICIALS

During these times when enrollments are rapidly increasing, the school board has been faced with many new problems. The board has overseen construction of a new school on South Eighteenth Street and has made plans for another new school.

Secretaries

Mr. A. T. Lindley
Superintendent
Earlham, A.B., Butler, M.A.

Under the progressive leadership of Mr. A. T. Lindley, our school has incorporated many of the latest innovations of modern educational systems. Though his day is filled with important duties, he is never too busy to give a helping hand when problems come up around the school. He has taken an interest in the success and development of all phases of our school life.

Mr. Lindley was formerly superintendent at Crown Point, Indiana. He is serving his third year as superintendent of the Lafayette School City, having come to Lafayette from Peru, Indiana, where he was also superintendent.

Mr. Miller, Jeff's principal, is the supervisor of the school program. He attends to all school affairs and business. Almost all activities and educational changes are taken to him for advice and approval. He devotes much of his time to individual students who need guidance.

Mr. Miller is a native of Lafayette, and a graduate of Jefferson High School. He started teaching mathematics here in 1928, and became Dean of Boys in 1932. Mr. Miller, since 1942, has been Jeff's capable and enthusiastic principal.

Mr. V. D. Montgomery
Vice-Principal
Indiana, A.B., M.S.

Mr. Vertis D. Montgomery, known to all students as "Vee Dee", is the vice-principal of Jefferson in charge of the senior division. A native of Shoals, Indiana, he attended grade and high schools there. Before receiving his A.B. and M.S. degrees from Indiana University, Mr. Montgomery lived in Shoals and taught in the schools for six years. Coming to Lafayette in 1938, he started his local career as a math teacher here at Jeff. He became dean in 1943, succeeding Mr. Lynn Miller. Mr. Montgomery has been very considerate with the many students who have come to him with their problems. His understanding and guidance have helped the student body to become better people, both in school and in the community.

On the surface, the students of the high school may think that they are small parts in a large machine; that the teachers and administration have absolute power over them; that they are so insignificant that no one would miss them if they didn't exist.

This attitude, however, can be seen to be wrong. The entire physical plant and faculty is dedicated to the education of the student body as a whole. Perhaps each person may be but a cog in a machine, individually; but the high school could not exist without all, collectively.

Yes, our entire educational set-up here at Jeff is aimed at changing the timid, small, less educated, underclassman into the suave, more intelligent, polished, senior.

STUDENT BODY

At the left we see a scene which is very familiar in the halls of Jeff. Math teacher, Milt Leverenz, keeps crowds from forming in front of the main office. This facilitates the efficient running of the high school.

SEPT OCT NOV

Jeff's basketball team led other Jeff squads in honors this year as they stunned the state by gaining runner-up in the state tourney. On their way to this lofty position, the Bronchos defeated many teams which had defeated them during the regular season.

Red and Black footballers narrowly missed adding another North Central Conference trophy to the Jeff trophy case, as they won seven of their ten games.

Broncho wrestlers hosted the I.H.S.A.A. meet this year. They placed fifth in the team standings and had one state champion grappler.

A Jeffman placed in the state cross-country finals for the first time in history. Every indication pointed to successful seasons in the spring sports: track, tennis, golf, and baseball. Although the teams were studded with returning veterans, all faced extremely strong schedules.

ATHLETICS

The eight gentlemen shown at the left are taking part in a pastime in which they became quite proficient before the tourney ended. Ask their opponents.

FOOTBALL

In the season's opener at Jeff Field, Coach Marion Crawley's Bronchos defeated a surprisingly-strong Crispus Attucks team. The Jeffmen rallied after trailing six to two at the half time. Randy Barrett raced twenty-two yards for the victory-spelling tally.

The only score of the Frankfort game was made by Gene Schilling on a pass from Bill Bone which climaxed a ninety-two yard march from the Broncho's own eight-yard line.

Kokomo entered their game with the locals with an undefeated and unscored upon record. Jeff's passing corrected both of these things and accounted for the Jeff crew's third straight victory of the season.

In one of the upsets of the season, the Irish of Cathedral overpowered the high-riding Bronchos in a non-conference game. One of the few Jeff high spots of this encounter was the fine defensive work of both Bill Parker and Bob Huegel.

Scoring in every period, the Bronchos had little trouble rolling over a hapless Marion team. Randy Barrett made the longest ground-gain of the game, a fifty-five yard sprint to paydirt.

Jeff's only tally of the game at Elkhart was scored by Jim Roberts. This was one of the team's saddest showings of the season. The host, Blue Blazers, took complete charge of the second half of the game.

A big powerful, high-scoring Logansport team felt the Bronc's kick in their important North Central Conference tilt. Bill Bone's fifty yard aerial to Carl Braun accounted for the local's first T.D. Bone then hit Bill Schilling with another to account for the other Jeff score.

The Crawley-men took the opening kickoff and drove for a touchdown in their game with Brazil. Jim Roberts scored twice during this encounter and aded the other Jeff marker on his receipt of a pass from Bone. Vint Mahoney and Gene Schilling sparkled on defense for the locals.

Jerry Ellis, New Castle's all-state halfback, spoiled Jeff's hopes for their fourth consecutive N.C.C. title when he hit paydirt in the third period of their game at New Castle. Jeff was forced to play this game minus the services of their all-conference center, Bill Parker.

The traditional clash with West Side provided the season's outstanding game. Two points, accounted for by Charlie Schaible's block of a West Side punt in the initial period, was the margin of victory. The game was the most hard-played of the season as both lines proved to be as solid as the Rock of Gibralter. The game was a fitting climax to a fine season on the part of the Bronchos.

Bill Parker received the Optimist Club Award, presented annually to the player who, in the opinion of his team mates, is the outstanding player of the year.

Bronchos—State Runners-up

State runners-up! Who would have believed that the Bronchos could come within sixteen minutes and a sprained ankle of winning the state when the tourney opened. Entering the tourney with an unimpressive nine won and eleven lost record, they were only co-favorites for the sectional title. In the regional they were given a fair chance. But in the semi-finals, to quote one columnist, "The Bronchos are simply in the wrong company." Ask Hammond or South Bend Central who was in the wrong company! "Wha' Hoppon?" asked the sport writers when they suddenly realized that the Jeffmen were one of the Fieldhouse Four.

The final pairings pitted Madison against Marion in the afternoon opener and Jeff against the tall New Albany Bulldogs in the other tussle. Marion's Giants made a gallant try at stopping the Cubs, but couldn't quite turn the trick. Then the Bronchos took the court—a 4½ point underdog. The regulation game ended at 39 all after New Albany held the ball most of the second half in a spectacular "stall." Charlie Schaible hit a last-second field goal in the overtime to give the Crawleymen the decision. The victory was costly, however, because Jeff lost the services of forward Charlie Reynolds for the finale, as he went out with a twisted ankle.

The 1949 runners-up, Madison, pulled away from the Bronchos in the last half after the score was tied at halftime 28-28. A great many fouls marked the final contest and both coaches were forced to substitute freely. Most of the winning margin was in the free throw column, where the Cubs hit 23 and Jeff 10. All in all it was a great showing by a Jeff team consisting of five juniors on the starting five.

B Team

Coach Sammy Lyboult's Colts enjoyed a successful season as they won over half of their games. Fritz Franz, who was promoted to the varsity for the last few games and tourney, led the B team. Made up of sophomores and a few juniors, the team defeated some of the strongest junior varsity squads in the state.

Row 2: Franz, F.; Robinson, W.; Snyder, J.

Cross-Country

Coach Orval Martin's cross-country squad finished the season with a record of two victories and three defeats in dual meets.

Don Paddock was the first Jeff man ever to qualify for the State Meet held this year at Indianapolis. Paddock, who was running for the first time this season, finished in the upper quarter of the competition at the meet. He qualified for the meet by placing fourth at the Sectional Meet held at Terre Haute.

The Broncs finished sixth at the North Central Conference Meet at Marion. They also placed second in the triangular meet held at Delphi. The team placed third at the Sectional Meet.

Broncho letter winners were: Don Paddock, Walt Robinson, Francis Rapp, Fritz Franz, Jerry Snyder, Gene Neverkla.

TRACK

Had you ventured out to the Jeff plateau early this spring when the Broncho harriers were rounding into shape, you would have seen pole vaulters, shot-putters, broadjumpers, hurdlers, high jumpers, distance runners, and sprinters, all working feverishly in preparation for the season's opener.

You would more than likely have seen Coach Orval Martin pointing out to some prospective athlete both his good and bad points. Also you would have seen the manager giving a needed hand to some hopeful cinderman.

All of these things are part of the usual practice session for hopeful Broncho tracksters.

Grunt 'n' Groaners

The Broncho "rasslers' " fifth place finish at the state meet was the highest position ever attained by a Jeff team. Dick Woodley, of the locals, became the new state 155 pound champion at the meet which Jeff hosted for the second time in three years. Jimmy Johnson, Jeff 103 pounder, placed second at the meet. Other Broncho place-winners were Pat Doran, 95 pounds, third place; and Jim Neubauer, 127 pounds, fourth place.

During the dual meet season, Coach Willey's "grunt and groaners" won seven, lost five, and tied two dual meets with the state's strongest squads. The Jeffmen defeated such powerful teams as South Bend Central, Southport, Howe Military, West Lafayette, Muncie Central, Rensselaer, Anderson, and Danville, Illinois. Ed Rock, Jeff's 145 pounder, went through the regular dual meet season with an undefeated record.

TENNIS

RECIPE FOR 1950 SEASON

1. Take one returning veteran from the 1949 season (Dick Steiner).
2. Add a large group of unseasoned recruits.
3. Add a new, ambitious coach (Jerry Clark).
4. Then add a tough schedule.
5. Also a large dash of ambition and willingness to work.
6. Add a spoonful of luck.
7. Mix all of the ingredients thoroughly.
8. The result is a successful 1950 Tennis season!

Now I'd do it this-a-way.

BASEBALL

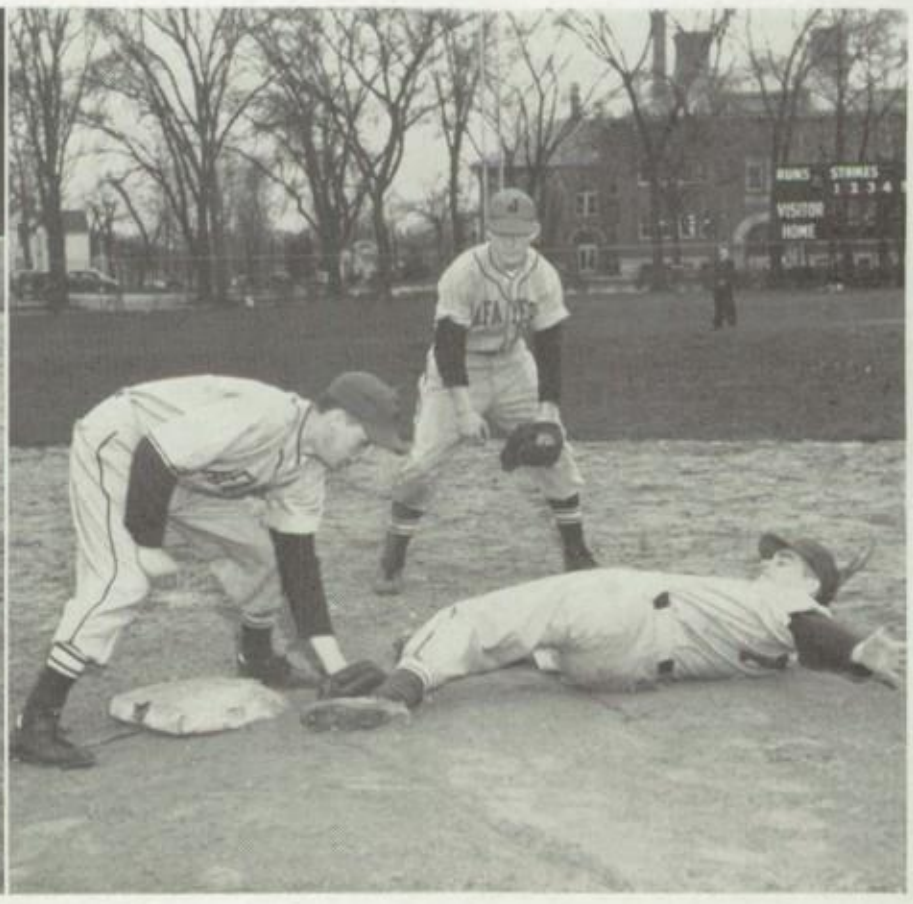
Prospects for the 1950 Jeff baseball season were exceptionally bright this season as the squad met for opening practices.

Coach Sam Lyboult had a large number of returning veterans to bolster his new recruits. Among these were Bob Ave, Randy Barrett, Denny Blind, Jim Cahoun, Arnie Cohen, John Gretencord, Boyd Hovde, Jim Kaser, Fred Koning, Don Phillips, Bob Pierce, Jim Roberts, Tom Robinson, Walt Robinson, and Jim Sprankle.

This squad faced one of the toughest schedules in the state, which included, in addition to North Central Conference frays, games with many strong independent high school teams. Even with the strong schedule, however, everything pointed to one of the finest seasons in the sport's long history here at Jeff.

Yerrout!

So are you!



Not quite "gone with the wind."

GOLF

Prospects for the Jeff golf team's season for 1950 looked brighter than they ever have in the past. As the season opened, five returning veterans reported to Coach Marion Crawley along with many others who were trying their hands at competitive golf for the first time. Numbered among these seasoned "pitch and putters" were George Evans, John Grogan, Ronnie Huth, Charles Lohman, and Gordon Wolever.

Margaret Rose and Gleyre Switzer

CHEERLEADERS

At every possible opportunity during a football or basketball game the Jeff cheerleaders led the student body in organized yells. Gleyre Switzer and Margaret Rose were the Bronchos' capable cheerleaders thru the 1949-1950 football and basketball seasons. During the last part of the basketball season and the tourney the freshman cheerleaders (see page 162), helped their older counterparts.

Gleyre has led yells for the three years. He attended the Indiana State Basketball finals at Butler Fieldhouse in 1948 and 1950. Always one of the highlights of the games is the "whisper" led by Gleyre.

Maggie, a junior, led cheers for her second year. The block section was led in their yells by Maggie.

It was due in no small part to the enthusiasm of the yell leaders and the co-operation of the students that the Bronchos gained fame both on the gridiron and on the hardwood.

GIRLS ATHLETICS

Girls' gym classes, under the direction of Mrs. Gertrude Krueger, this year stressed individual recreational activities which could be enjoyed for many years and which require little or no special equipment. Among these were social dancing, square dancing, badminton, and table tennis.

Of course, a certain amount of competitive team sports, such as basketball, soccor, and volleyball were also offered.

SEPT OCT NOV

ORGANIZATIONS

Organizations at Jefferson High School provide enjoyable recreation, as well as educational experiences. They promote interest in many fascinating subjects, and help to build more versatile citizens for the world of tomorrow. These organizations are open to all, regardless of economic or social status. They encourage individual expression as well as group co-operation.

Due to increased interest in new fields, several new clubs were organized, while others were reactivated because of continued enjoyment in their activities.

The enthusiasm shown on the faces of the students at the left is what makes the clubs of Jeff successful and well represented over the state.

Mr. B. A. McAdams, Director.

JEFFERSON BAND

The first big event after school starts is the opening football game. Naturally this means much excitement to all Jeff fans, but it means intensive practice to B. A. McAdams' band. This was just a minor part of the band's practice schedule, for much preparation was needed for the District Contest held at Kokomo. This year band members won many first places at Kokomo which entitled them to compete in the State Contest in Indianapolis on March 25th.

The band played for the Christmas Concert and the annual spring festival. This spring the members once more enjoyed their traditional dance and spring trip.

A Cappella Choir

The A Cappella Choir is the advanced choral society of Jefferson High School. Its forty members, carefully tested and selected for voice quality, are ably directed by Miss Camilla White. Donna Brunsma, Pat Amstutz, Dick Goodner, and Bob O'Brien assist her as section leaders. The choir sings for many school, radio, church, and civic affairs. Among the organizations who enjoyed their singing were the Lafayette City Federation and the Conference of City Teachers.

Broncho stationery was sold by members in order to purchase new music and robes.

Choralairs: A New Choir

A new musical organization here at Jeff is the Choralairs. The group was organized by Camilla White at the beginning of the 1949-50 school year.

Although in many ways like the A Cappella Choir, the Choralairs is entirely independent of the former group. The new choir sang for many different meetings and also took part in a Music Festival at Crawfordsville.

Everyone of the forty-eight members of the group takes an active interest in the organization. By various projects they have raised money with which to buy music.

Helen Hickman is the secretary-treasurer with June Simpson, Joanne Klar, Richard Hawkins, and Tom Ryves serving respectively as soprano, alto, tenor, and bass section leaders.

SENIOR ORCHESTRA

The sweet strains of music which one may hear coming from Room 115 are produced by the Jefferson High School Orchestra. Under the direction of B. A. McAdams the orchestra has shown great improvement and is often called upon to play for luncheons and other meetings. In addition to the State Solo and Ensemble contest, and the State Orchestra contest, Christmas and Spring Concerts are presented.

For the second year, Ruth Foster is concertmeister.

Mixed Chorus

Two of the most original and entertaining convos of the year were presented by the Mixed Chorus. Miss Camilla White directed this group and prepared them for participation in the Indiana District Festival held at Crawfordsville. Christmas caroling by the mixed chorus was greatly enjoyed by all the students. The spring festival, held in the Jeff gym, was one of the big events for the chorus.

First semester officers were Barbara Edwards, president; Virginia Fields, secretary-treasurer; Kenneth Gable, librarian. The Club re-elcted Barbara Edwards president for the second semester. Bill Martin and Georgie Osborne were elected secretary-treasurer and librarian, respectively.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The members of the Girls' Glee Club enjoy testing the elasticity of their vocal chords by meeting in the music room Monday and Wednesday of each week. Directed by Miss Camilla White, the club presented a convocation, using the "Amateur Hour" as the theme. A variety of acts was presented, and the convo was enjoyed by all.

Norma Bush, president; Carol Michael, secretary-treasurer; and Barbara Brown, librarian, served as officers for the first semester of the school year. Second semester officers were Patty York, president; Cindy Hornbeck, secretary-treasurer; Eleanor Lahr, librarian.

BOWLING LEAGUE

Mahlon Butz is president of the Jeff Bowling League which is affiliated with the American Junior Bowling Congress. Other officers are Don Phillips, secretary; Glen Bickett, treasurer; Lois Cook, reporter.

In March the league entered the National Handicap tournament, competing with teams throughout the United States.

A banquet was held at the close of the season at which time awards were made.

Girls Advisory Council

The Girls Advisory Council, formed in 1921, is a club to which any girl may belong who has sixteen or more credits and is recommended by her teachers.

A service organization for the school, the G. A. C. furnished scouts for the office, cared for the trophy cases, and maintained a checkroom at the basketball games. Members also assisted in the March of Dimes polio campaign by having a "blanket collection" at one of the games.

Barbara Rostov, president; Magdala Thomas, vice-president; Eleanor Lahr, secretary; Harriet Painter, treasurer, were the officers for the year. Mrs. Rose Marie Barone served as temporary sponsor during the illness of Miss Slayback, who is the regular sponsor.

The highlight of the year was the formal reception held in the Pine Room in honor of Miss Slayback.

Debate

Mr. W. E. Jackson coaches the members of the Debate squad which entered the Indiana State Teachers College tournament and the Indiana High School Forensic Association Debate tournaments.

The debates were on "Resolved: That the President of the United States Should be Elected by Direct Vote of the People."

The squad was divided into two sides. On the affirmative side were: Charles Francik, Jim Hankins, Dick Steiner; on the negative were Wes Lods and James Geen. Daisy Reece served as alternate.

Forensics

A member of the Indiana High School Forensic Association, this year's Forensic group took part in many individual events. The group entered the I.H.S.F.A. District Contest, held at Jefferson; Ball State Teachers College Drama Conference; and the I.H.S.F.A. State Contest, held at Indiana University.

The group also produced a one-act play entitled, "The Last Curtain," directed by Mr. G. W. Smith.

Discussions carried on at the meetings of the Latin Club may be Greek to outsiders, but they are only Latin to the members. On the second Thursday of each month, Mrs. Papenguth sponsors a meeting for the entertainment and interest of all students who have had, or are taking, Latin. The programs assume a more serious nature, as they tend to introduce the students to Roman life, government, and customs.

The club gave toys to poor families at Christmas time and sponsored a mixer.

Officers are: Bob Rapp, president; Helen Hickman, vice-president; Mary Ellen MacDonald, secretary; Sondra Swinford, assistant secretary; and Mary Ann McIntyre, treasurer.

La Junta Hispanamerica

La Junta Hispanamerica, more familiar to most students as the Spanish Club, is sponsored by Mrs. Shirley Cochran. The members get together for their meetings on the third Monday of the month. Moving pictures and lectures by South American guests are the main entertainment of the meetings.

A Christmas party and a picnic were sponsored by the club. Club officers were: President, John Grogan; vice-president, Fran Boehle; secretary, Totty Boor; treasurer, Dick Donahue; and corresponding secretary, Joyce Smith.

Talking it over

Bronc's Hi-Y—Jeff's Live "Y"ers

The Bronc's Hi-Y meets every other Monday night in the pine room. Of course, special meetings are called as the occasion arises. George W. Smith and Jerry Clark sponsor the club and plan their meetings according to suggestions made by the members.

Officers for this year were: president, Bill Stebbins; vice-president, Robert Binz; secretary, 1st semester, Art Reitemier; 2nd semester, Fred Lux; treasurer, Don Paddock; and sergeant-at-arms, Ray Shoemaker.

Activities of the club were not just centered around a few fields, but around many. For example, many picnics, indoor parties, and an annual dinner-dance in honor of the graduating senior members were held. This club is of much service to our community and to organizations outside our community by its giving to charitable causes.

The Bronc's Hi-Y was well represented at the spring and fall conferences at Logansport and Kokomo respectively, and at the older boy's conference at Marion. Delegates were also sent to the annual Hi-Y training camp which is held at Camp Tecumseh every summer.

Jeff is proud to have such a group of boys that are interested in not only their club but also the entire school's activities.

Jeff Hi-Y—A Pillar of the School

The Jeff Hi-Y, sponsored by James R. Ade and R. William Levering, is affiliated with the State Y.M.C.A. The Hi-Y meets the second and fourth Tuesday of every month. Officers are Anthony Anderson, president; Bob Greenwood, vice-president; Karl Guiney, secretary; Howard Boor, treasurer, and Bill Parker, sergeant-at-arms.

Religious convocations for Thanksgiving, Christmas, Brotherhood Week, and Easter are sponsored by the Hi-Y. The annual Queen Of Hearts Dance, Mothers and Sons dinner, Fathers and Sons dinner, a spring and a fall picnic are all on their calendar this year.

The club sent representatives to the district conference at Logansport and to the state Older Boys' Conference in Marion. A concession stand was operated at the football games, and the club sponsored several mixers.

Schilling, G.; Anderson, A.; Roberts, J.

Mixers and a spring picnic were among the activities enjoyed by members of the J Club sponsored by Marion Crawley, Jeff athletic director.

This year's officers were Jim Roberts, president; Gene Schilling, vice-president; and Anthony Anderson, secretary-treasurer.

This year, club members, for the first time, held the rope at basketball games. They also held a section of the bleachers open for the girls' block section.

Membership in the club is open to any Jeff student who has earned a block letter "J" in any of the sports offered at Jeff.

Hi-Tri

The Hi-Tri Club, sponsored by Mrs. Edythe Van Camp, is open to all Jefferson girls. The objectives of this club are service, spiritual inspiration, and entertainment.

The officers are Barbara Edwards, president; Beulah Van Ostran, vice-president; Shirley Gard, secretary; Betty Jean Smith, treasurer.

The year's entertainment consisted of an initiation of new members, a picnic for the girls and their dates, a Christmas party, and spring formal dance.

Girls Athletic Association

Tumbling, ping-pong, volleyball, basketball, deck tennis, badminton, tennis, archery, softball, and swimming were all parts of this year's Girls Athletic Association program, directed by Mrs. Gertrude Krueger.

Social activities of the organization were a call-out in the fall for all incoming girls, a joint swimming play-day with West Side at the Purdue Women's Pool, a Valentine party, at which state G.A.A. pins were presented to members who had qualified for them, a mock basketball game presented at a pep session before the final basketball game of the season, a spring picnic, and the presentation of awards to members on honor day.

For the first time this year, eighth grade girls were made eligible for associate memberships. This served to familiarize these girls with the G.A.A. program before their entrance into senior high.

Officers for the year were: president, Velda Carte; vice-president, Barbara Orr; and secretary-treasurer, Shirley Parker.

F.H.A.

Betty Mayhew served as president for the local chapter of the Future Homemakers of America, a national organization. Other officers are Carolyn Steiner, vice-president; Daisy Reece, secretary-reporter; Lorene Caylor, treasurer; Phyliss Short, songleader; Anna McDowell, parliamentarian; and Patty Bennett, historian.

The worthwhile purposes of the club are to promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of homemaking, to encourage democracy in home and community life, to work for good home and family life for all, and to further interest in home economics.

The colors of the F.H.A. are red and white, the flower is a red rose, and the motto is "Toward New Horizons."

The members planned several field trips to local points of interest, such as Purdue University and National Homes, Inc.

Master Machinists

Raymond Cavanaugh, president; Harold Mulhaupt, vice-president; John Beemer, secretary; and Jim Crites, treasurer were the officers of the Master Machinists—a club for students enrolled in vocational machine shop.

Highlights were industrial field trips throughout Lafayette and the annual dinner at Snyder's.

A basketball team made up of members of the club enjoyed a successful season, winning 8 out of 8 games. "Wills' Willy Willies" was the appropriate name given to the team since the club is sponsored by Mr. Wills, machine shop instructor.

NAUTILUS

Publishing a yearbook is one continuous grind from the day school is out the year before to the day of distribution.

During the summer the editors attended a two weeks' Journalism Institute at Indiana University, and there drew up the dummy and made plans for the next year.

When school took up, the staff met and the work of taking 300 club and action shots and 2,000 individual pictures began. Then the writing of about 75 pieces of copy plus identification of all pictures began immediately.

Then at last — distribution day came — the day when the result of a year's toil was first displayed to the student body.

That long, hard pull for eleven months was made worthwhile by the pleased looks of appreciation on the faces of the students.

Another Nautilus has been added to the shelf of Jeff yearbooks—continuous for 37 years!

Library

Jeff is fortunate to have a well-equipped library which serves as a teaching materials center. A complete collection of books provides for all types of reading. Magazines, both new and old editions, are available for use in the school. Students who use their free time to explore the library are assisted in the selection and use of library materials by Mr. Smith and the student librarians.

Audio Visual

If Paramount News can claim to be "The Eyes and Ears of the World," then the Audio Visual Club has every right to the title "Eyes and Ears of Jefferson." Under the direction of Mr. L. W. Smith, the club provides operators and equipment for noon hour, class, and special movies. The officers of the club are Dave Rasmussen, president; Tom Pechin, vice-president; Bill Pechin, secretary-treasurer.

Future Teachers of America

Raymond Bender sponsored the Future Teachers of America Club which had as its leaders: Earl Nelson, president; Beulah Van Ostran, vice-president; Harriet Painter, secretary; Mary Chrissikos, treasurer.

Activities listed on the club calendar included a Christmas party, field trips, a panel discussion before the Childhood Education Association, and the formal installation of the club at which time its charter was presented.

Plans were also made to secure lecturers in education from various colleges to speak at some of the monthly meetings.

SUNSHINE SOCIETY

Every girl at Jeff has the opportunity to belong to the Sunshine Society. The oldest girls' organization, the society was formed in 1916 and has long been noted for its service to the school and to the community.

Contributions were made by the group to the Riley Fund, the Red Cross, and for an installment on the new public address system in the gymnasium.

Margaret Mohlman, president; Millie Clock, vice-president; Marjorie Posthauer, secretary; Virginia Fields, treasurer, were the officers who, with the help of their committees, planned the annual Bronchoette Gallop which was held April 29 in the Jeff gym.

Miss Slayback and Mrs. Leffler were the club sponsors for the year.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council—a group newly organized last year to give the student body a governing voice in the school—consists of representatives chosen from each of the senior high home rooms.

Barbara Edwards served as president, capably helped in her administration by Charles Lester, vice-president; Janet Masterson, secretary; Earl Nelson, assistant secretary; Margaret Rose, treasurer.

Many achievements are accredited to the council. The senior election was held, using a regular voting machine; a code to better our relations with West Side was drawn up; broken chairs were repaired and new ones were bought for the cafeteria; bulletin boards were put up in each class room; lockers were sprayed; paint was removed from the outside of the building; rules were set up for cheer leaders to be elected for next year—all these were accomplished through the efforts of the Student Council of Jefferson.

The Council also sent delegates to a Student Council Convention held at Bloomington on April 15.

SEPT OCT NOV

The activities of the average Jeff student are many and varied. From sliding down banisters to singing in the Red and Black Revue the Jeff student is always kept "on the go."

A new youth center was opened at Columbian Park. Every Wednesday night Jeff students dance and play games from seven till ten o'clock. The center has been such a success that plans have been made for keeping it open during the summer.

The Red and Black Revue was the first big activity of the year in which all of the students were given a chance to participate.

Dances, both formal and informal, were sponsored by many o fthe clubs. All of them proved to be highly successful.

All of these help to round out the life of the student of Jefferson.

SENIOR PLAY SMASH HIT

"I'm a sophomore," wails Susan. "How can I have a mother who's only a freshman!" To Susan the situation seemed ridiculous, but it really happened as the delighted audiences found out when "Mother Is A Freshman" was presented March 23 and 24 by the 1950 Senior Class. The three act comedy, written by Raphael David Blau and dramatized by Perry Clark, was directed by Mrs. Lelah Zahn.

The students selected to play the various parts were well chosen. Marjorie Posthauer and Margaret Mohlman, who played Abby, gave excellent portrayals of the attractive widow. Don Raider and Jim Hankins proved to be very handsome as the zoology professor. Pat Webb and Millie Clock performed magnificently as Susan, Abby's daughter, who "goes dramatic" at times and acts like a normal college sophomore the rest of the time. John Leibenguth and Earl Nelson were quite dignified as the Dean of Pointer College.

The fresh originality and sparkling dialogue which combine to make a gay comedy hit, plus the hard work of the director, members of the cast, and others who helped in the production, will make "Mother Is A Freshman" a play long-remembered.

Susan's mother's first two names are Abigail Fortitude, and anyone with those names is eligible for a liberal memorial scholarship established years ago by a wealthy woman of the same name. When the Abbotts are hard hit financially, Abby decides to take advantage of the "zillions piling up" since 1907. Sue points out what a lonely old lady she'll be on a college campus—"like a left over chaperon." But Abby sees no other alternative, and the two are off for Pointer College.

Lower right: Ah-Hum!!

Right at the start Abby is confronted with many problems. The Dean, who suspects her of a publicity stunt, tells Abby that the slightest infraction of any rule will give him the excuse to expel her. She hears the other girls discussing what "a character named Abigail" must be like. And she has a terrible time with her main course—zoology. She finds herself flustered when the handsome professor gives her extra help, and delighted when he asks her to a dance. But she doesn't realize that many of the co-eds, among them Susan, have crushes on the professor. Causing a real stag-line stampede when she makes her entrance doesn't help matters either. However, there is a simple solution to the whole situation, and the play ends on a happy note.

The first act, "Sensations of 1949," was presented by the Industrial Arts and Home Economics departments. A dancing chorus did their steps to such tunes as "Chicago" and "June Night." A highlight was the entrance of the "powder box queen" and her escorts.

Act two, "Courtly Capers," performed by the Girls' Physical Education Department, was the scene of King Erehwon's palace. His two jesters were trying to think of some entertainment for him and decided to send for a troupe of acrobats. Many difficult stunts were done by this group of talented girls. The jesters were now justified in saying they had furnished entertainment for both the King and the audience.

The English and Language Departments presented acts three and four, "The Bullfight." A crowd of gay senoritas and senores cheered their Toreador through a hard fought battle into an overwhelming victory. The colorful costumes of the senoritas made this scene very realistic.

In act five the Mathematics, Science, and Commerce Departments gave us "Carnival Time." The familiar barker was trying to sell tickets to a weary crowd of grown-ups and ambitious kids. A preview performance was given by the strong man, the human insulator, and the Eight Balls of Fire.

Over six thousand people were thrilled by the 1949 edition of the Red and Black Revue. Two performances were given in order to accommodate the huge crowd. This all-school production owes its success to the managers under the supervision of H. J. Wills, general chairman; the casts, and different departments. The Red and Black Revue Orchestra, directed by B. A. McAdams, furnished the overture and most of the music throughout the show. Specialties were presented between the acts. Much hidden talent was displayed by individual students who sang, danced, and played the piano.

The Social Studies act was "Rhumba Land." The A Cappella choir sang "Tico-Tico" followed by a chorus line which kept in time with the music of "My Shawl." Both the choir and chorus joined in on the last verses of "Tico-Tico."

1949 Red And Black Revue

The grand finale, "Dixie Land," brought to a climax the Red and Black Revue of 1949. Once again this production kept its high standards and will be remembered by all, especially those who participated in it.

SENIOR ELECTION

One of the greatest privileges that we of the United States enjoy is that of voting.

The senior class, on January 18, exercised that privilege by voting for their class officers. The candidates were as follows: for President, Joe Mullen, Patty Soller, and Bob Ave; for Vice-President, Ed Rock and Patty Webb; for Secretary-Treasurer, Donald Nelson, Ronald Huth, Margaret Mohlman, and Barbara Rostov.

The victorious seniors were: Bob Ave, president; Patty Webb, vice-president; Barbara Rostov, secretary-treasurer. These people will choose the various committees for the Gala Week festivities.

The use of a regulation election machine, contributed by Fairfield Township, materially aided the success of the election.

Jeff Daze

The staff of the 1950 NAUTILUS included this page of seldom thought of, informal events in order to bring back memories of the sweet "daze" at Jefferson. Some of the pix are of things that are quite familiar to all, while other shots are familiar to but a few. However, the aggregation seems to typify the nostalgic air of this, our institution of secondary education.

Now, that'll be $1.80.

QUEEN OF HEARTS

Earl Newport's popular dance band set a pulsating tempo for the annual Queen of Hearts Dance held in the Jeff gym on February 11. Sponsored by the Jeff Hi-Y, it was one of the most successful dances of the season.

"Queen of Hearts" was spelled out in large red and white letters on the band backdrop. A canopy of red and white streamers, and graceful arches over the door completed a true valentine atmosphere.

Lovely, hazel-eyed Marge Posthauer, in shimmering green taffeta, was crowned Queen of Hearts. Carroll Schwab, Gaynel Green, Patty Webb, Janie Graham, Carol Rauch, and Bette Erwin were her charming attendants. As queen, Marge received a bouquet of red roses, a gold locket, and a flame colored orchid. Her attendants were presented with bouquets of red and white carnations.

To top off a wonderful dance, Hi-Y members presented their dates with beautiful gold compacts with "Queen of Hearts" engraved on them.

Booster Dance

Beulah Van Ostran was crowned queen of the Booster Dance held on November 5 in the Jeff Gym. The queen and her attendants, Lois Beck, Beverly Dickerson, Marjorie Goldsmith, Joanne Munger, and Lois Graff, were presented with bouquets of crysanthemums. Over one hundred and fifty couples danced to the music of Hugh Kellogg and his band. This very successful dance was planned by the Jeff Booster Staff.

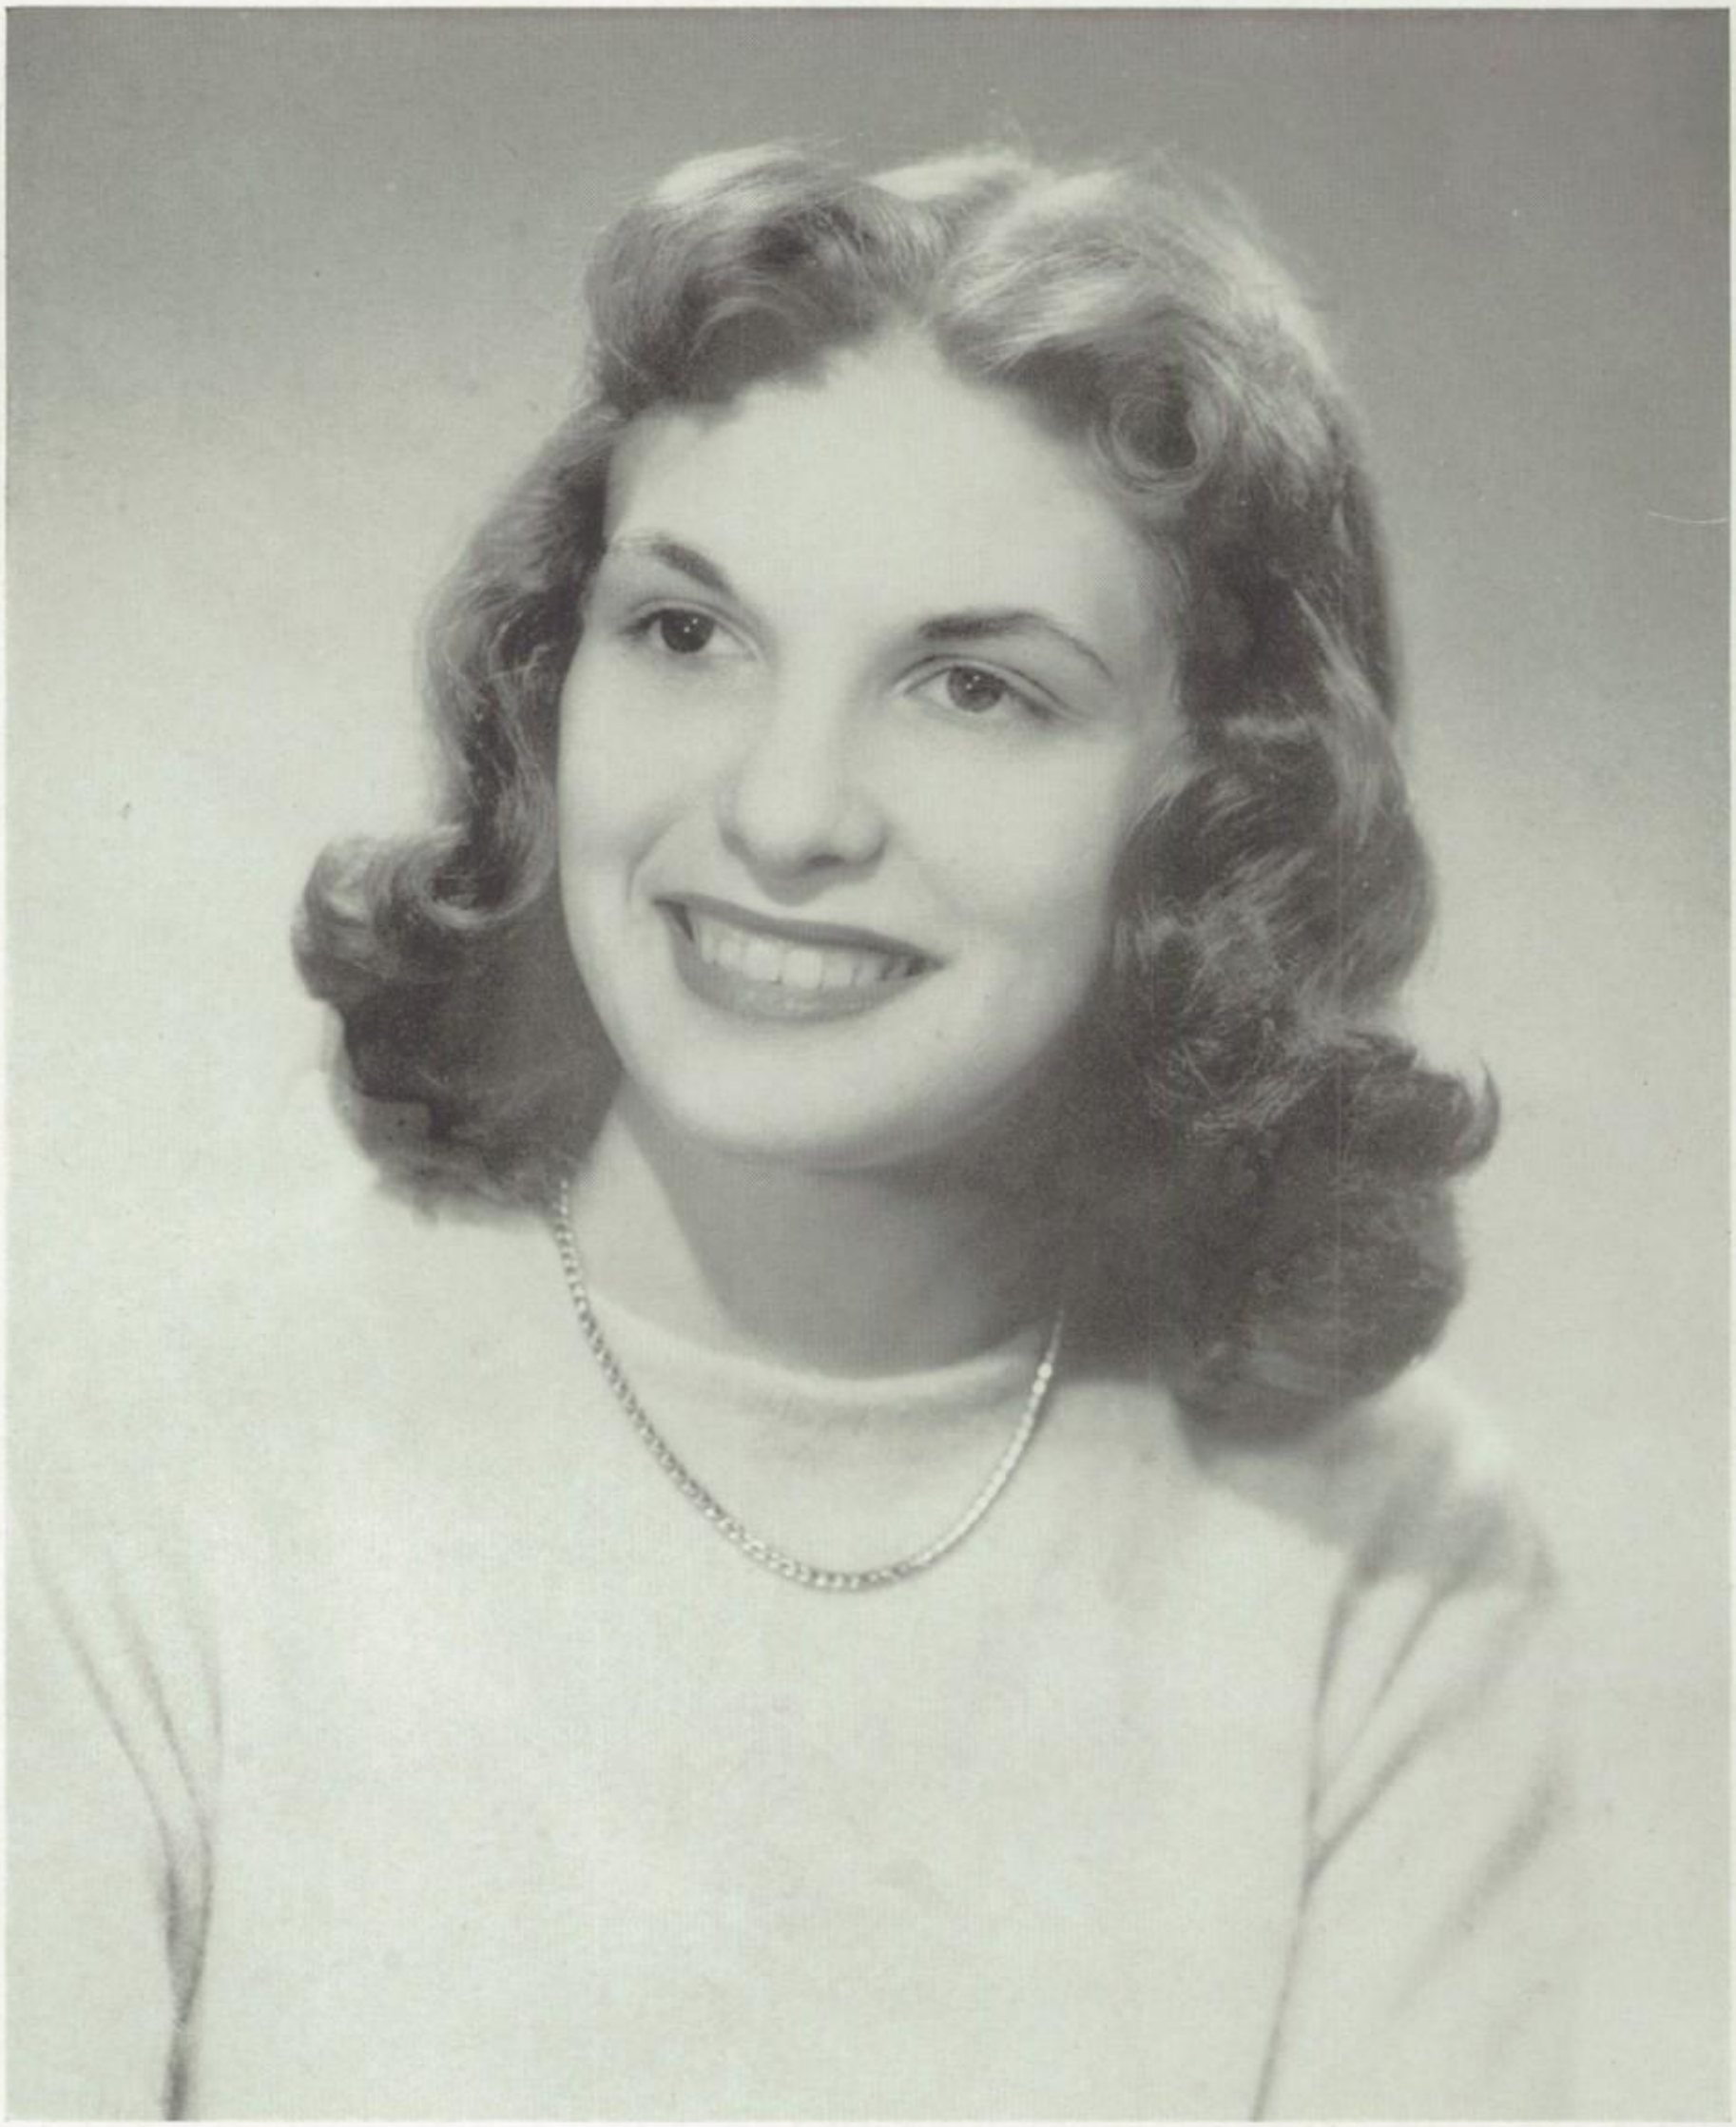
New Youth Center Opens

A new youth center was opened at Columbian Park for the teen-agers of our community. This project, under the leadership of Mr. Wallis York, chairman of recreation, and Mr. Charles Hopkins, manager, was sponsored by the Jeff Senior Parent-Teachers' Association. Fraternal and civic organizations of our community financed the center and provided representatives to chaperon the programs.

The Lafayette Federation of Musicians and the Jeff Dance Band shared in furnishing the pleasing dance music. For the benefit of those wanting to learn to dance, lessons were given for an hour each week. The programs also included ping-pong, shuffleboard, bingo, and canasta. A concession stand was operated for the convenience of attending students.

The average attendance of over five hundred teen-agers showed their appreciation by co-operating in planning the programs and participating in them. Plans have been made for continuation of the youth center through the summer.

Students make use of shuffleboard courts.



MISS JEFFERSON of 1950

Miss Bertina Whipple, selected "Miss Jefferson" of 1950, also selected Miss Senior.

Margaret Rose, Miss Junior.

NAUTILUS QUEENS

For the second year the Nautilus has sponsored a contest to select some lucky girl as Miss Jefferson High. The contest, held in December, was entered by approximately fifty girls.

The pictures submitted were judged by Marian Gettings, chairman; assisted by Lelah Zahn, Verle Lannum, Gerald Clark, Vertis Montgomery, and Charles Hopkins, faculty members. Judging was done solely on the photogenic qualities of the entries.

Bertina Whipple was selected Miss Senior and also Miss Jefferson High. Runners-up were Margaret Rose, Miss Junior; Betty Jo Thompson, Miss Sophomore; and Bertina Wilson, Miss Junior High.

SEPT OCT NOV

Although the day of the "horse-tank-dunkin' " has gone, upperclassmen have found several original and efficient means by which to impress upon the fresh underclassmen the superiority of their elders.

However, in spite of frowns and criticism, Junior High has proved itself worthy of belonging to Jeff. It has done this by taking a minor part in athletics and social activities. Almost before they had memorized their schedules, the newcomers were participating in inter-class sports. All in all, they are a promising group, one in whose hands, when seniors, may safely rest the honor and prowness of Jefferson.

JUNIOR HIGH

At left is pictured one of the typical activities of a junior high homeroom. Mr. O'Leary's homeroom is presenting an original program similar to "Stop The Music." The records are played and songs are sung for the students to identify. The students for junior high have various programs in homeroom, many of which are suggested by the students.

JUNIOR HIGH PEP BAND

Inset: Nellie Lee Slayback
Junior High Music Department
Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, B.S.

Junior Band

Under the direction of B. A. McAdams, the Junior High School Band played for the annual Christmas and Spring concerts. The members also participated in the Halloween and Christmas parades and entered the State Band and Orchestra contest on April 15.

The Pep Band, consisting of some of the members of the regular band, adequately lived up to their name at all the eighth and ninth grade basketball games.

Junior Orchestra

The Junior Orchestra, which meets once each week, is composed of boys and girls from the seventh and eighth grades. All string players are from Miss Slayback's classes of instrumental music. Various groups from this organization performed for teachers' meetings and other affairs.

Plans were made to present a radio broadcast over station WASK and to take part in the State Orchestra contest at La Porte in April.

The concert master's chair was held by two pupils this year: David Semmes, first semester, and Mary Ann Hostetter, second semester.

The following section is given over to those of our community who have shown their civic pride by helping promote their high school's yearbook. There will be found advertisements of various retail and wholesale stores situated in Lafayette and the surrounding territory. These persons and their establishments, together with those of the Jefferson student body who purchased yearbooks, have financed this book. The advertisers bore their share of the cost by buying "space" on these pages in which to advance their product or enterprise.

ADVERTISEMENTS

At the left we see the Nautilus business manager putting up posters regarding yearbook payments. This method of advertising is most commonly used by small concerns. On the following pages you'll see the style of advertising used by more advanced businesses, the ones who help to back the Nautilus.

A KISS

It all happened in a club near here. They came toward each other from opposite directions.

Presently they met, heedless of the fact that dozens of eyes were watching them, they kissed with a resounding smack. They made a stunning couple—he, a tall blonde, and she, short with curves in the right places.

The meeting brought them perfect contentment, but they were side by side for only half a moment.

After all—how long does it take a bowling ball to knock the pins down?
